Victor Manuel de Anda Iturbe (born Victor Manuel De Anda Iturbe; May 8, 1936—November 28, 1987) was a Mexican criminal and gangster, considered by some the single most dangerous enforcer in the inner city. He was the younger brother of Ignacio Iturbe (originally known as "Jimmy Snake Eyes"; born June 30, 1929 in Chicago, Illinois; died July 17, 2002) and Ignacio Jr (born Ignacio Iturbe Jr.; December 19, 1941—February 2, 1997), who was never considered as dangerous. He may be the most dangerous enforcer in Chicago history. Orlando Lebron, always careful to wear a long-sleeved shirt and sunglasses on the job, was known for the slow methodical way in which he executed his hits. Chicago's most wanted gangsters Victor Manuel "Victor" Manuels, and his brother, Ignacio "Jimmy" Iturbe were responsible for at least five murders each. We made it up to a high point just above the sound and hiked around it to the top of a very steep rock face with a few small cairns. We could see both directions of travel on the other side, and decided to cross up and catch the ferry to West Baynes Island. We then hiked through different areas on West Baynes Island hiking up to the road at the north end of the island. This was a great hike as we had the entire island to ourselves with no one in sight. We only saw a few boats in the distance and some houses along the road. West Baynes Island is the only populated island in the sound system, so there is very little traffic along the road. We then made our way back to Baynes Sound and picked up the ferry to West Baynes Island. The ferry ride was really quite nice as there was only one other passenger. It was nice that the driver had a binocular that he was using to watch the whales coming through the sound. Hiking in the sound system Our ferry ride back to Kayak Island Ferry to Kayak Island After our ferry ride, we walked back to the kayak launch and headed to the boat launch site at Church Bay. The ferry dropped us at a different location this time and we took a 1 mile hike up to the boat launch site. It was a nice hike as there is a lot of switch backs, but after that it is straight up and down. This was a short hike but great scenery, and one that I would recommend for anyone looking to be able to have a long hike in the mountains without traveling too far. The last part of the hike was a nice grassy area which gave a nice peaceful setting for lunch. Looking down the trail up Church Bay After lunch 570a42141b
