For programs that you do not need to make BossMode work. No CDs, downloads, no software, only time-saving tips. The "No software" part is what is the unique feature of this application. A brief explanation of the "no software" feature is that you can get an optimized version of your system without paying any money. Basically what it does is that it takes you a couple of minutes to run a specially formatted disk and install the software on your computer. So, you can have a clean system and be all set to go. This means that you can spend less time and more money on other things. What do I mean by that? Well, it means that you can get one less program that you have to download and the disk you get is perfectly optimized for your computer. One of the unique features of this disk is that it can help you discover more programs in your computer. This disk has two different disks and only the second disk runs and helps you discover more programs in your computer. I will not tell you how to discover more programs on your computer, that is for you to find out by yourself. But, the second disk runs and you can see what all the programs are that you are missing on your computer. So, all that is left for you to do is click on the disk that you want to run. And then, you will have a new window come up with all the programs that you might have on your computer. For example, this disk contains a couple of programs that I use and I discovered that I was missing out on a couple of programs, such as Adobe After Effects. After I ran this disk, I discovered that I had to have some software that I use frequently, so I went and installed Adobe After Effects. So, after I ran this disk, I found out that I could have done that in the beginning. The only problem is that, I don't need to pay for software. And, since I found out that I was missing out on a couple of programs that I use, I didn't need to pay for any of them. So, I saved some money by installing this disk.
